6.2 APPLICABLE DOCUMENTS

Item No.	Title	Date	Location
1	Quality Service Review – Shared Protocol – Field Version 1c	August 2013	CFSA Headquarters 200 I St SE.

6.3 DEFINITIONS

- 6.3.1 Quality Service Review (QSR) is a process of reviewing child welfare cases which incorporates both reviews of documentation and interviews with the key participants of the case.
- 6.3.2 Review Protocol: refers to the document “Quality Service Review Shared Practice Protocol: prepared by Human Systems and Outcomes
- 6.3.4 Case Summary or Case Story: this is a written narrative that describes the child and case subject to review, and which incorporates the information gleaned from the interview with the case participants.
- 6.3.5 Case Presentation: a process lasting approximately 1 hour, usually scheduled for the Friday of the week in which the review is conducted, where the ratings for the case are discussed with two or more senior reviewers familiar with the process but who were not participants in the review of the individual case.

6.4 BACKGROUND AND NEED

- 6.4.1 CFSA has been using the QSR process to evaluate and improve case practice since 2006. In 2010, specific indicators in the QSR were identified as the means by which compliance with the LaShawn A.v. Bowser Exit Plan would be monitored. In 2012, the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) published Information Memorandum 12-07, “Establishing and Maintaining Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) Systems in State Child Welfare Agencies”, which indicated that case review processes similar to the QSR would be a required part of the CQI programs used in all states.
- 6.4.2 Between 2010 and 2012, the QSR unit completed 65 to 68 case reviews using the QSR tool every year. For the reviews done in 2012, the QSR unit increased this number to 100 in order to increase the reliability of the findings. In 2013, in response to advice from consultants from the Child Welfare Policy and Practice Group, the target number of QSRs was further increased to 125 for calendar year 2014.
- 6.4.3 The current procurement is being offered to bring trained reviewers from outside the agency to support the QSR unit in meeting its commitment to complete 125 reviews during the calendar year.

- 6.4.4 CFSA has never previously used this method to recruit assistance. In past years representatives from CSSP have assisted in up to 20% of the reviews completed, but they have already indicated that they will be reducing rather than increasing their participation in 2014.
- 6.4.5 The work to be completed by this procurement will assist the QSR unit in completing its annual target, which is 25% higher than 2013 and 98% greater than the number completed in 2012.

If subfactors are applied, the offeror's total technical score will be determined by adding the offeror's score for each subfactor. For example, if an evaluation factor has a point value range of zero (0) to forty (40) points, with two subfactors of twenty (20) points each, using the Technical Rating Scale above, if the District evaluates the offeror's response as "Good" for the first subfactor and "Poor" for the second subfactor, then the total score for that evaluation factor is 4/5 of 20 or 16 for the first subfactor plus 1/5 of 20 or 4 for the second subfactor, for a total of 20 for the entire factor.
